The Kjærulf-Family-Tree is listed below as it appears in Cap Kierulff's original 432-page-TCK-Red-Book printed in 1986, with the latest updates to 2008. Printed-Copies of this 432-page-TCK-Red-Book are located in the Mormon "Family History Centers" in both = West Los Angeles, California = and in Salt Lake City, Utah, United States of America, and in the BiblioTech Library in Aalborg, Denmark.

NOTE: If you want "your" records "updated," send an E-Mail to: CapKierulff@msn.com
The TCK-page-numbers listed below are the same as those in the printed copy of TCK.

You can Search for a Kjærulf relative by using EDIT-Menu and FIND (or Ctrl+F).
Check your Browser's Edit-Menu and Click on Search, e.g. in Internet Explorer you press EDIT, and FIND (or Ctrl+F). Try Native or English spelling. For Men, enter Full Names.
For Married Women, enter Maiden Names with ( ) around the Maiden (Surname).
Highlight text, and copy it, when you want to create your own personal family tree.

The number & letter in front of all 1st-Names are the Generation # & Sibling Letter.
The number after all Last-Names is the Page # in Klitgaard's 100-year-old, 500-page-book "Kjærulfske-Studier" (KS) = where this person (or his/her ancestors) appear.

Only KS-Kjærulfs known to have 20th & 21st Century Issue are included in TCK.
The Symbol: * * in front of 1st-Names means this person is the Owner of a TCK-Red-Book.
This Symbol: * means that this listing contains the "Last-Known-Address."

NOTE: The following format lists the 1st-born First (and many of that 1st-born's-issue) "before" the 2nd-born-&-issue, (some of which are listed "before" the 3rd-born-&-issue), and so on, until many Kjærulfs have been shown in this fashion - throughout this entire Genealogy.

VIKINGS DISCOVER AMERICA - 1000 YEARS AGO -

0a Bjarni 208 Herjulfsson L Iceland 10th century - In the year 986 (exactly 1000 years ago) Bjarni was the first Viking to discover America while sailing west from Iceland, then backtracked east to join his father in Greenland, as documented by National Geographic Magazine (November 1964 issue, Page 708) from Scandinavian Sagas handed down orally generation to generation. It is only a remote possibility that Bjarni is in any way related to the Kjærulf line. He is listed here for historical background and because of his somewhat similar surname. (0001.0000)

OLDEST BRANCH: KJÆR HERRED LINE (Kjærulfske Studier-3-32)
(Kjær County, Northern Jutland, Denmark)

1a Anders (Wlff) (Wolff) Ulff 7 b Schleswig-Holstein Germany - Moved 200 miles north to Northern Denmark early 15th century - 1 B: He settled as a farmer in Kjær Herred (`meadow district') in North Jutland. 1a Anders 7 was the first Ulff to come to the county of *Kjær according to the earliest written records in that area of Denmark. He therefore became the first `Kjær-Ulf', a `coined' name. This is one derivation of our identity. See text for other possible derivations. (0002.0000)

0a Bjarni Herjulfsson (KS-pg-208) L Iceland 10th century - In the year 986 (exactly 1000 years ago) Bjarni was the first Viking to discover America while sailing west from Iceland, then backtracked east to join his father in Greenland, as documented by National Geographic Magazine (November 1964 issue, Page 708) from Scandinavian Sagas handed down orally generation to generation. It is only a remote possibility that Bjarni is in any way related to the Kjærulf line. He is listed here for historical background and because of his somewhat similar surname. (0001.0000)

(Kjær County, Northern Jutland, Denmark)

1a Anders (Wlff) (Wolff) Ulff 7 b Schleswig-Holstein Germany - Moved 200 miles north to Northern Denmark early 15th century - 1 B: He settled as a farmer in Kjær Herred (`meadow district') in North Jutland. 1a Anders 7 was the first Ulff to come to the county of *Kjær according to the earliest written records in that area of Denmark. He therefore became the first `Kjær-Ulf', a `coined' name. This is one derivation of our identity. See text for other possible derivations. (0002.0000)

1. Anders Ulff. Born 1380. Died 1450. See = 1a-TCK-pg-9
Both Dyreskjøt and the Swedish genealogist Gabriel Angrep agree that the Kjerulf family originally came from Holstein, and that the first of this line to step into the "light of history" was Anders Ulff. We have already told how he acquired the name Kjærulf. In Dyreskjøt's book we read that he "owned the Aslundgaard "fogdegaard" (the farm where the rural tax collector lived), the Biørum farm, and a lot of property and farms in Kier township, as well as in Hvetbo and Hann townships, and that he had a grey wolf in his coat of arms. He lived at the time of King Erik of Pomerania (1430), King Christoffer of Bavaria (1440) and King Christiern I (1450), a fact which is documented in old letters."
For Klitgaard it remains an open question whether Anders Ulff belonged to the nobility or not. The other two genealogists, Dyreskjøt and Gabriel Angrep believe that he was "introduced into Danish nobility". The fact that he was a wealthy property owner and had his own coat of arms would lead one to believe that he was a nobleman, and the report that he was at the royal court and rendered an "exceptional service" to the king further confirms that he was a man of exalted station.
It is said that he lived under three kings: Erik of Pomerania (1387-1442), Kristoffer of Bavaria (1442), and Kristern I (1450-1481). From this information one could surmise that he was born about 1380 and died about 1450.
Dyreskjøt writes: "I have never been able to find the name of his wife, but do know the names of three of his sons."
The line continued with these three sons, but we shall only deal with one of them here.

Children:

2 i. Anders Andersen Kjærulf #1 = 2a-TCK-pg-9

Second Generation
----
2. Anders Andersen Kjærulf #1 Died 1450. = 2a-TCK-pg-9

We have no knowledge of the year of his birth or death, nor do we know the name of his spouse. In 1448 he was residing at the "fogdegård" (farm of the rural tax collector) in Vadum, Sogn, and was the tax collector in Kjær township. He is also mentioned in 1450 and 1454. He had apparently died before 1458, for at that time Thord Nilsen was the tax collector in Kjær township. Thus it appears that when he died none of his sons was of legal age, since the office of tax collector in Kjær was connected to the Kjærulf family from medieval times up to the end of the 17th century.
Dyreskjøt contends that Anders Andersen Kjærulf #1 had a daughter who was married at Vested in Aaby parish. Her name is not known. This daughter had a son, Klement Andersen, who was born in 1484 and called Skipper Klement. He was executed in 1536. Dyreskjøt writes that he " betrayed both himself and the Kjærulf family as a result of his failures in wartime".
Anders Andersen Kjærulf's sons were Peder Andersen Kjærulf, Jens Andersen Kjærulf and Anders Andersen Kjærulf. We shall follow the line of the youngest.

Children:

Third Generation

3. Peder Andersen Kjærulf.

4. Jens Andersen Kjærulf.

5. Anders Andersen Kjærulf #2 = 3d-TCK-pg-10

In a reference to Anders Andersen Kjærulf #2 for the year 1470 Dyreskjøt tells us that "he owned Aslund farm (residence of the tax collector) and a lot of property". He was married to Else Wogensdatter. Dyreskjøt writes: "They had several children, two sons and one daughter." But Klitgaard believes that in addition to these they had two more sons: Jens and Morten.
The children were: 1. A daughter married in Gjetrup. 2. Jens Andersen Kjærulf. 3. Morten Andersen Kjærulf. 4. Anders Andersen Kjærulf #3 5. Peder Andersen Kjærulf. Again, the line continues with the youngest.

He married Else Wogensd.. They had the following children:

7	ii.	Jens Andersen Kjærulf
8	iii.	Morten Andersen Kjærulf

9. Anders Andersen Kjærulf #3 = 4d-TCK-pg-53

10. Peder Andersen Kjærulf. Died 1570. = 4e-TCK-pg-146

He lived in East Halne, in Vadum parish. His brother Anders also lived on the same farm, and both are mentioned as two of the four freeholders in the parish in 1568. Peder Andersen Kjærulf was, according to Dyreskjøt, tax collector for the township in 1570.
He was married to Karen Bertelsdatter from Vesterbæk. They had 5 children: 1. Else Pedersdatter Kjærulf 2. Bertel Pederson Kjærulf 3. Morten Pedersen Kjærulf 4. Anna Pedersdatter Kjærulf 5. Anne Pedersdatter Kjærulf. It was Morten Pedersen Kjærulf who was the next link in the family line.

He married Karen Bertelsd.. Born in Vesterbæk. They had the following children:

11	i.	Else Pedersdatter Kjærulf
12	ii.	Bertel Pedersen Kjærulf
13	iii.	Morten Pedersen Kjærulf	= 5c-TCK-pg-210

15	v.	Anne Pedersdatter Kjærulf

Fifth Generation

---

11. Else Pedersdatter Kjærulf.

12. Bertel Pedersen Kjærulf.

13. Morten Pedersen Kjærulf = 5c-TCK-pg-210

He continued to live in East Halne, the same parish in which his parents lived. He was tax collector for the township of Kjær in 1596. He died about 1660. He was married to Bodil Hansdatter Mørk from Saltumgaard, the daughter of the tax collector in Hvetbo township, Hans Mørk, and his wife, Johanne Vognsdatter, from Hæstrupgaard. Her father belonged to an old, distinguished family of sail manufacturers (the term indicates a particular process of weighing the sails). Her mother belonged to an old aristocratic family.

He married Bodil Hansd. Mørk, daughter of Hans Mørk & Johanne Vognsd. Nestrupgaard.

Now we are going to leave the Kjærulf family briefly and have a look at the family tree of the noblewoman Bodil Hansdatter Mørk from Saltumgaard.
There is royal blood in this branch of the Kjærulf family line.
It seems improbable, perhaps almost comical, but it is nevertheless a fact that in the person of Bodil Hansdatter Mørk we have a connection between the Kjærulf family and the old Norwegian royal line. This is not as unique as one might expect. In both Norway and Denmark there are many families that are able to trace their lines back to Olav Haraldson and Halvdan Svarte. In the Norwegian publication "Tidskrift for genealogi" for 1924-25 there is an article by C.M. Munthe entitled "Vore Fælles ahner" (Our Common Ancestors). In it he shows that a number of Norwegian civil servant families are descended from Danish noblewoman Johanne Andersdatter til Asdal (Jutland), who lived from 1385 to 1479. She gave birth to 18 children in two marriages, and the descendants of these can be found all over Scandinavia. She herself is descended from St. Olaf, so all of her descendants are also related to him.
As a curiosity we have printed the family tree for Bodil Hansdatter Mørk. We begin at the top and follow it backwards or down the ladder, which is the opposite of what we do with the Kjerulf line (tree included in the Norwegian text).
This information on the various lines through the Middle Ages all the way back to the murky realms of Norway's distant past has been gathered for the most part from "Adelskalenderen" (Calendar of Nobility), a yearbook that has collected information about noble family lines over the years. Norwegian aristocratic families are also referred to in "Danmarks adels Aarbog" (The Yearbook of Danish Nobility).
Now we shall return to the descendants of Bodil Hansdatter and Morten Pederson Kjærulf.
Bodil Hansdatter became a widow early in her life. As was mentioned earlier, Morten Pedersen Kjærulf died in 1600, and his widow married Lars Pedersen, assembly clerk and later tax collector for Kjær township. Bodil Hansdatter and Morten Pedersen had 4 children: (listed in Norwegian text).

They had the following children:

About 1608 she married Bertel Thomsen Kjærulf of Bundegaard, West Holne, Vadum parish. She died about 1661. He died in 1660.
During the first years that Inger Mortensdatter and Bertel Kjærulf lived at Bundegaard they had a lot of trouble with a woman living near the farm who was thought to be a witch. The account of this cunning woman, Anne Lumpen, provides us with a good picture of the thinking and superstition of the time, but is also an example of how calculating women could exploit this fear and superstition to their own advantage. This was the time when witches were burned at the stake, so she understood the risk she was taking.
When Anne got into a quarrel with someone, she was quick to speak of the evil that would befall them if she didn't get her way. Then, if someone had some difficulties or an accident, it was Anne's fault. They believed she was a witch and could work magic and cast spells on people. They became fearful of her and were reluctant to say no when she asked for something; and, essentially, she lived from begging. Little by little she became bolder and more impudent. Finally, after a series of accidents on the Bundegaard farm and other places in the parish, Bertel Thomsen brought a lawsuit against her.
After a long legal proceeding involving many witnesses, Anne was convicted of witchcraft by a twelve-man parish court of justice on June 9, 1618. There were a number of Kjærulfs among the witnesses and members of the court.
Anne, of course, maintained that she was not guilty, but the National Assembly confirmed the verdict of the parish court. Klitgaard writes that " on a summer day a short time thereafter smoke rose from a fire up at Hammer Bakker near the Kjær parish assembly; and both churchmen and ordinary parish citizens turned out in large numbers to watch Anne Lumpen burn on the pyre."
During the war of 1627-29 the Bundegaard farm was pillaged and the family driven out by enemy troops, and during a later war with Sweden the farm was also ravaged by the enemy.
In 1653-54 Bertel Thomsen had to sell some sections of the farm to stave off creditors.
Inger Mortensdatter and Bertel Thomsen had 1 son and 8 daughters (list of names in Norwegian text)

Kristiansand was established by King Christern IV. in 1641, and Morten Olsen Kjærulf is thought to have come over from Denmark a short time later. Christern IV. died in 1648, and in printed sources there is disagreement as to whether Morten Kjærulf had any contact with him. In Captain Lengnick's memoirs we read that he "was said to have rendered great assistance in the development and fortification of the city and to have received from the king the pledge that he and his descendants would thenceforth occupy the city's most important civil servant positions."
Klitgaard believes that this is incorrect. He says that during the reign of Christern IV. Morten Kjærulf was not yet of age. This is probably correct. An inquiry was sent to the city of Kristiansand, but no information was obtained. It is possible that a history of the city has never been written. What we do know for sure is that Morten Kjærulf became a merchant, and that he was later "rådmann" (something close to deputy mayor) of the new town from 1687 until his death in 1696. The fact that each of his sons inherited 1391 "Rdl" (riksdaler, unit of currency used until 1875) indicates that he had become very prosperous. He had 9 sons. In those times the daughters did not inherit anything.

Morten Olsen Kjærulf was married twice. We do not know the name of his first wife. The second, Karen Andersdatter Dedekam, who was born in Kristiansand in 1659 and died in 1741, was the daughter of deputy mayor Anders Tønnesen and Karen Hansdatter Spinche. He had 14 children by these two wives. Most of them settled in Kristiansand and the surrounding area, and in this manner the Kjærulf family soon spread out across the country. (A family tree follows in the Norwegian text)

He was born in Kristiansand on March 14, 1684, and died in Øjestad in 1723. He was the first Kjærulf of the Kristiansand line to study for the clergy. At that time anyone in Norway who wanted to be admitted to an institution of higher education had to travel to Copenhagen. Antonius Mortensen began studying in 1703, received his degree in theology in 1707, amd in 1710 was appointed pastor for Hyllested and Vendeslev of the Sorø district in Denmark. He wanted to return to Norway, however, and in 1715 he applied for the position as pastor for Øjestad, not, as he wrote, "for any reasons of worldly advantage, but so that I can more easily comfort my grieving mother, who is now a widow." He did not receive the position at that time.
In 1716 he received a "Magistergrad" (today, approximately equal to a doctorate in the U.S.), and the same year he was "called" to the pastorate at South Øjestad, arriving there in 1717. In 1720 he became "prost" (pastor in charge of several parishes in an area) for Nedenes.
He was married in Denmark in 1716 to Margrethe Numsen, who was born in 1680 and died in 1727, the daughter of Major Corfitz Numsen and his wife, the widow of the former pastor of Hyllested and Vendslev, Henning Jacobsen Achton.
It is said that Antonius Mortensen Kierulff "was a poor spouse and his wife a conceited spendthrift, for which reason they were constantly troubled by financial difficulties."
Antonius Mortensen Kierulff and Margrethe Numsen had only two children (listed in the Norwegian text).

He married Margrethe Numsen, daughter of Corfitz Numsen, 1711. Born 1680. Died 1727. They had the following children:

52. Henning Jakob Kierulff. Born 1713. Died 1773. = 13b-TCK-pg-47 = (KS-pg-247) =

Henning Jakob Kierulff was born in Hyllested in 1713 and died in 1773, at which time he was a pastor in Nannestad. Upon the death of his father in 1723 he was sent to a school in Roskilde. His father's brother, counsellor Anders Mortensen Kjærulf of Kristiansand, looked after him, and later a paternal uncle of his mother, Mathias Numsen, a justice official in Copenhagen. He began studying in Roskilde in 1733, receiving his degree in theology in 1739 and shortly thereafter beginning as a private tutor in Kristiansand.
After several years he became "personellkapellan" (an assistant pastor paid by the pastor himself) in Undal, and in 1743 "residerende kapellan" (assistant pastor) at Valle in Undal. After a year as military chaplain, he was offered the position as pastor in Lom, Gudbrandsdalen. From there he moved to Nannestad in 1754, where he remained until his death.

Henning Jakob Kierulff was first married in 1745 to Ingeborg Munthe Lem, who was born in 1717 and died in 1751. She was the widow of pastor Ole Dampe of Valle. His second wife was Margrethe Sofie Stud, who was born in Eidsberg in 1729 and died at a home for widows at Løken in Holter (a section of Nannestad parish) in 1775.
As a curiosity piece we shall print what was written as an address on the cover of a long prologue composed by law clerk P. Holst on the occasion of Henning Jakob Kierulff's first wedding:
We shall only include a few lines here from the poem: If the Lord in years past took from the bride her husband And thus placed her in a lamentable condition Together with the children, both of them So has God our Lord now brought happiness again And granted her a bridegroom and friend God can make all things turn out for the best.
(Translator: The original Norwegian is rhymed.)
It is both ostentatious and elegant, and we are not compelled to search for a meaning. It is an echo of "Det Norske Selskab" (a literary circle) in Copenhagen, and we are reminded of the verse of Peter Dass, Edvard Storm and other poets from the mid-18th century.
Our great-great-great-grandfather had these children by his two wives (list included in the Norwegian text)

He was born in Nannestad on January 13, 1760, and died in Hole on September 8th, 1820. Like his father and grandfather, he studied for the ministry, receiving his degree in theology in 1784. He began as "personellkapellan" (assistant pastor paid by the pastor) in Froen in 1786, was prison chaplain in Christiania (Oslo) from 1789 until he became pastor in Hole in 1792. He was thus pastor in Hole in 1814 and led the meeting at the church at which two men from Hole were to be chosen to join those selected in other communities in Buskerud. These men convened at a place more centrally located and elected from their ranks three delegates to the national assembly at Eidsvold. We shall include here the text of the proxy they received from the pastor:
"Major Krohn and Erich Larsen Sørum have been chosen from amongst our citizens in their entirety to meet at the duly appointed time and place in order to, together with representatives from all other parishes, elect three of the county's (larger administrative districts in Norway corresponding to our states) most enlightened men to attend the assembly in Eidsvold, which has been called by the king to convene April 10th of this year, and at which, in accordance with the highest authority, Norway's future form of government shall be determined, and all of their actions shall be regarded as representing the citizens of the entire parish, which we herewith confirm."
Hoele Parsonage, February 25th, 1814 Most Humbly, Kierulff
All of the Gol representatives met at Nes and elected their delegates. Those from Gol who affixed their signatures were Knud Guttormsen Haftoren, "lensmand" (rural law official) in Gol, Ole Engebretsen Rotnem and Ole Olsgaard. (Refer to "Haavelmofolket")
"Prost" (see earlier explanation) Kierulff must have been an excellent speaker. We can read the following about him in the visitation report of March 8, 1818: "The quality of his voice is most pleasant to listen to, also his recitation, which is marked by very clear enunciation." (Here the Norwegian author has elaborated on the word "Diktion" as meaning "the manner of reciting a written text or hymn".)
Ulrik Fredrik KIerulff was married to Eleonora Elisabeth Krefting, who was born in 1793 and died in 1840, the daughter of Lieutenant Colonel Jakob Krefting and Eleonora Cathrine Dorothea Brinck. They had two children (names listed in Norwegian text).

Jens Lauritz Kjerulf, following in the footsteps of his father, grandfather and great-grandfather, studied for the ministry. He began his studies in Christiania (Oslo) in 1819, took his degree in theology in 1828, and was ordained the same year. He was first "personellkapellan" (see previous explanation) for his father in Hole, then in 1842 he became pastor in Trysil, where he remained until 1851. Thereafter he became pastor in Gol and Hemsedal, remaining there for 25 years until, in 1878, he went to live with his son-in-law, Haldor Westerbø, in Valdres, where he died in 1891.
In 1833 Jens Lauritz Kjerulf married Henriette Philipine Dunker, who was born in 1804 and died in Valdres in 1880. She was the daughter of Adjutant General Henrik Dunker and his wife, Charlotte Lutzow. He was a close relative of the attorney Dunker, who was well-known throughout Norway.
It is a bit strange now to think that our great-grandfather was a fellow student of Henrik Wergeland during the latter part of the 1820s. Wergeland, who was born in 1808, was nine years younger than Kjerulf, and took his degree in theology in 1829. Great-grandfather told our grandfather that he had been present at the famous "Torvslaget" (Battle at the Market Square), the first genuine mass demonstration we hear about in our history. And, according to "Morgenbladet" (a newspaper), it was the students who were "the leaders of the agitation". In the article we read that "a swarm of people set off down Storgaten to Vaterlands Torv and Vognmandsgaten, from where they headed over to the docks and then up Rådhusgaten, past the residence of the "Statholder" and the house of the Student Association..."
A police officer identified a young man named Stuberg, who at that time also had a position as a "klokker" (a person who led the singing at church services), as one of the ringleaders of the demonstration. According to the newspaper, this officer testified that at Vognmandsgaten Stuberg had gone to the head of the crowd, shouted encouragement and swung his hat in the air. Kjerulf was surely a friend of this Stuberg, for when he became pastor in Trysil, he employed a student named Andreas Stuberg as tutor for his chidren. This young man was certainly a son of "klokker" Stuberg, who was the "ringleader of the mob" in 1829.

Another famous contemporary of great-grandfather whom we must mention here was Jørgen Moe. He was somewhat younger than Kjerulf, was born in 1813, began his studies in 1830, and did not take his degree in theology until 1839. There were a number of reasons he took so long to complete his studies, one of them being an unhappy love affair. There were also periods of nervous depression. One Sunday, during the time Kjerulf was assistant pastor in Hole, Moe was conducting worship service. Everything went well until he climbed up to the pulpit. He stood there without uttering a single word. It was a case of the notorious "white fog", which occasionally afflicts speakers and leaves them bereft of all thoughts and words. He stood there motionless for a few minutes, then calmly stepped down from the pulpit.

We know that Jørgen Moe went on to become both a courageous and eloquent pastor. He demonstrated this in many instances during the time he was pastor in Sigdal and Krødsherad, and later bishop in Kristiansand. I have not, however, seen the anecdote concerning his first sermon in any of the many biographies written about him in his capacities as pastor, collector of fairy tales, and poet. Perhaps this story has only been told within our own family.

We have now reached a point in time so close to our own that we are able to glean information from stories and local histories. "I can remember that Kjerulf often sat on that stone and looked out over the valley", said Wilhelm Eidsgaard, and pointed to a stone up by the old church. Today there are none who remember him in this manner, but both Svello and Haavelsmo tell about him in their farm histories and genealogies. Incidently, there are a number of errors in Svello's book, both with respect to names and dates.

In the "kaldsbok" (book that records appointments to a pastorate) for Gol we read: "Pastor Kjerulf is regarded by his parishioners as a friendly, sociable and extremely amenable person." This is very likely a correct assessment, and it is possible his congeniality and peaceable nature were the reason that his three gifted sons remained at home and did not receive an education. It has been said, and I have seen this in print, that it was their mother's fear of abandoning her spirited sons to the dangers of the big city that was the primary reason, and that their peaceable father acquiesced. Manual labor was not something for the sons of civil servants in those days, so they hunted, fished and whiled away their time. It was certainly poor preparation for a life of farming in a mountain community.

Jens Lauritz Kjerulf and Henriette Philipine Dunker had these children (listed in the Norwegian text).

PORTRAITS (A compilation of written and oral histories to be included with the genealogy charts for my children) -Jean Lovdokken Iverson
This area of southeast North Dakota was not in the original Louisiana Purchase, its boundary, the Red River, ran north and did not drain into the Mississippi and Missouri River systems. It became part of America when the 49th parallel became the American-Canadian boundary to the Rocky Mountains. In 1858 Fort Abercrombie was established as the first military post in North Dakota. The Homestead Act of 1862, giving 160 acres away free to bona fide settlers, coupled with the invention by John Deere in 1840 of the lighter, steel, breaking plow made settlement of the prairie possible. The steel plow was strong enough to cut through the thick prairie turf and not become clogged.
Plowing allowed the land to bring forth a harvest of grain and the plowed furrows kept prairie fires from periodically sweeping the country.
To Silver Prairie came men from Norway with names of Iver, Knute, Christ, Tollef, Jacob, Stengrin, Thomas and three Ole's, one of them my grandfather Ole Lovdokken.
Ole Eriksen Lovdokken was born in Hallingdal, Norway June 5, 1857, the son of Erik Olsen Lovdokken and Anne Olsdatter. He married Jensine Henriette Kjerulf and came with her to America May 22, 1883.
First they settled around the Sheyenne River in Kindred, North Dakota where he did carpentry work and was a farm hand.

Eight years later he dismantled his log house and moved it and his family to Silver Prairie. On March 16, 1891 in the middle of a snowstorm the Lovdokken's young hired girl was sent with a team of horses to get her mother for midwifery duty. They did not return in time and my father Jens was delivered by his father Ole. He joined three brothers, Christ, Ulrik and Oscar. Another brother Jens had died the year before at the age of 2 years.

Soon after my father's birth, the family learned that their log cabin was on the alternate section of land given to the Northern Pacific Railroad and they had to move to the adjoining quarter of land which was their rightful homestead claim. Weeds grew up where the log house had stood and years later my father would tell the story that his older brother would point to the patch of weeds and say "that's where you were born."

A daughter Ida, born two years later, completed the Ole Lovdokken family.

The flat, fertile Red River Valley land was a sharp contrast to the mountainous farm land of Hallingdal, Norway - farming here was easier and more productive. Living on this treeless plain was not without its peril. My father related the story of the time his father had gone to the Sheyenne River for a load of wood and a blizzard was in full furry by the time he was returning. My father's mother went out to the road with a lantern. It was the light of the lantern and the sound of her voice calling "Ole, Ole" that saved him from driving past the turn to his farm in the driving blizzard.

In Jens Gronseth's Kjerulf family history, published in Norway, is a portrait of the Lovdokken family. Seated in a large wicker chair surrounded by his wife, sons and daughter, Ole Lovdokken is the dominant figure. As in the picture, Ole Lovdokken was a dominant figure in the community of settlers.

When the settlement was organized into a township, he suggested the name Garborg after Arne Garborg, statesman from Norway.

Ole Lovdokken built the first school in the township. His sons Christ, Erick and Ulrich, along with 6 classmates, attended the school when it opened in 1892. Lena Waa was the first teacher. Fifty years later, when Adeline Goldberg was the teacher, my brother Ogden and I were in attendance in the school. A 50th anniversary picnic for family and friends was held May 21, 1942.

Ole Lovdokken was elected to the board of supervisors when Garborg township was organized in 1896. He later served as a Richland County Commissioner. He was also active in state politics. In 1914 he and his wife went to attend the 100 year Jubilee in Norway as Gov. Hanna's personal representative.

That summer he lectured in Norway and my sister Hazel records in a family history that in his home community he was sought whenever a speech was required. When looking at newspaper clippings about him, Hazel found one which described his oratory thus "Words flow from his mouth like peas from a barrel."

Ole Lovdokken was a writer for various Norwegian newspapers and magazines. He was one of the organizers of the Hallinglag and editor of "Hallingmine." It is now called "Hallingen."

The Lovdokken home on the prairie was often filled with visitors. Recently I met a woman in her eighties who remembered being entertained by Aunt Ida while her father visited with the Lovdokkens. She recalled the picture of Ole Lovdokken in the uniform of the King's Guard in Norway, hanging on the wall in the living room, and her father looking at it and joshing Ole about what a handsome man he was. Ole Lovdokken shared his hopes and dreams and made plans for their implementation with the many visitors that came to his home.

Ole Lovdokken died October 8, 1919. He and his wife Henrietta, who died October 9, 1933, are buried in Emmanuel Lutheran Church Cemetery at Abercrombie, North Dakota.

The December, 1986 Hallingen had this translated memoir written by Ole Lovdokken. In it he records a visit with Ole Hertsgaard - a leader of the Hertsgaard family, who along with five others were the first to settle in the Red River Valley in 1871. I'm sure this conversation between the two Ole's sums up the feelings many had on leaving their beloved Norway and the thoughts they had about making a home in their new adopted land.

OLE LOVDOKKEN MEMOIRS Far up in Hallingdal where Heimsil River has carved its way deep into the naked rock and rushes down the mountainside to meet the river that flows through the entire valley, where Gol Parish lies in varying patterns of sun and shade crowned with mighty forests, and where choruses of songbirds bring all nature alive with their music - it takes courage and sacrifice to leave that place if it has been the place of one's birth.....
The familiar mountains could block the vision of wider valleys further east in the country where there was more wealth and future, by they could not prevent the desire for emigrating any more than they could stop the wind! When the river began to flow in spring and the waterfalls rushed down the mountainsides, the journey to America began. The most difficult "mile" was the one over the threshold of the familiar cabin. It was known as the longest and heaviest part of the journey.
On a warm summer day in 1883 I(O.L.) sat with Ole Hertsgaard in the shade of a large oak tree by the Sheyenne River. I thought about Norway and the mountains there.
"You will likely be taking a trip to our dear Hallingdal, Ole?" I asked.
"No," he said sorrowfully, "it was a tearful, heavy day when Mother and I and the others left Hertsgaard. And when we were at the bridge east of Hovtun I turned and gave Gol a farewell look. It made a deep scar on my heart. It has healed somewhat and I do not wish to tear it open again. But I have not lost the memory of Homeland and loved ones, and will never stop longing for them."
Then in a lighter tone of voice he added, "There is much here that needs to be done and our work days are not so long. We left some trails in Norway and we have made more of them here. It was neither Norway's fault or ours that we had to leave, but the needs of our time and God's Will. It appears to me that we must have a big assignment with far-reaching importance for the future in this wonderful and fertile land. Our God would not have arranged for us to be torn from the Land we loved so dearly if we were not to accomplish something of real value. I believe we who are Norwegian should take hold and work in unity, to build our homes and a future for our families which is our first duty. That was what we missed so sorely and what drove us away from what we loved. Then there are churches and schools to be built, and that is the foundation of all the rest we are to do for God's glory and to be of benefit to the future."

 Very famous Norwegian music composer (0815.0814)

KJERULF, HALFDAN (1815-1868), Norwegian musical composer, the son of a high government official, was born at Christiania on the 15th of September 1815. His early education was at Christiania University, for a legal career, and not till he was nearly 26 on the death of his father was he able to devote himself entirely to music. As a fact, he actually started on his career as a music teacher and composer of songs before ever having seriously studied music at all, and not for ten years did he attract any particular notice. Then, however, his Government paid for a years instruction for him at Leipzig. For many years after his return to Norway Kjerulf tried in vain to establish serial classical concerts, while he himself was working with Bjornson and other writers at the composition of lyrical songs. His fame rests almost entirely on his beautiful and manly national partsongs and solos; but his pianoforte music is equally charming and simple. Kjerulf died at Grefsen, on the 11th of August 1868.

1a Anders (Wlff) (Wolff) Ulff 7 b Schleswig-Holstein Germany -
Moved 200 miles north to Northern Denmark early 15th century - 1 B:
He settled as a farmer in Kjær Herred (`meadow district') in North Jutland. 1a Anders 7 was the first Ulff to come to the county of *Kjær according to the earliest written records in that area of Denmark.
He therefore became the first `Kjær-Ulf', a `coined' name.

This is one derivation of our identity. See text for other possible derivations. (0002.0000) remember when we walked through the forrest to Atlavík where we drank and ate? I was teaching in Hallormsstaðarskóli. There I met Siggi Kjerúlf. He is teaching part at this school. I met also Emma Líf Jónsdóttir and her brother Sigurður Max Jónsson. And Þórhallur Jóhannsson. These kids are our cousins. I was teaching several kids and some of them are our cousins like Ingimar Jóhannsson and Einar Sveinn Karlsson.

Ragnar Magnússon, my grandfather, died march 25 2004 at the age of 92.

14b Mariane 139 Christiansen Kjærulff og P. Kristian Knudsen gift 30 April 1889

født: Gammelstrup 19 Dec 1863	født: Fly 30 Sep 1859
død: Gammelstrup 1928	død: Gammelstrup 25 Okt 1917

Mariane Christiansen Kjærulff nedstammer fra en vis Anders Kjærulf (Wulff) der levede i Vendsyssel i det 15de århundrede. Den bekendte lærde vendsysselske bonde Peder Dyrskjøt (f. 1630, d. 1707) mener at Kjærulferne var af »di Wolffer och Pochwishes Stamme fra Holsten«.

Der er anvendt samme opstillingsform som i slægtsbogen "Twentieth Century Kjaerulfs" udgivet 1986 af Cap Kierulff i Los Angeles. USA. Eksempelvis er generationsnummeret angivet foran de efterfølgende navne der er trykt med fede bogstaver, (ovennævnte Anders Kjærulf Wulff er af første (1) generation) f. = født, d. = død, g. = gift, L. = lever sammen, B = børn from Hirtshals, b. 5 February 1832, d. 26 June 1950. She was the daughter of skipper and merchant Niels Larsen Baltzersen's abandoned wife in Hirtshals [MAREN PEDERSDATTER, and her 2nd husband, MIKKEL CHRISTENSEN, LILLEHEDEN] – see LAURIDSEN and BALTZERSEN families from Kjul. He went to purchase Norwegian horses himself. In 1906 he imported 60 Icelandic horses at an average price of 55 crowns. At night the horses ran loose in the back building of Vestergade 25, morning and evening they were driven loose through the streets to and from a field at Kongensgade. He purchased, and wholly or partially portioned out, the following: Uttrupgaard (now an old folks' home), the parsonage property, Bonnes woods from the avenue out to Vestergade, Holt's 60 tønder (one tonder of land is 5500 cubic meters) farm, Haagensens 25 tønder farm. From the 2,800 tønder Store Restrup farm, of which he was a partial owner, he parceled out Restrup Enge (Restrup Meadows) for smallholders. Dronningens Street and Niels Lykkes Street are wholly or partially situated on the property he owned.

P. Kristian Knudsen og Mariane Christiansen Kjærulff efterlod sig 8 børn:

He helped found the Bank of Nørresundby and the surrounding area, and was a member of the bank's board until his death. Nørresundby has never had a greater town patriot. 7 children

15d. JENS CHRISTIAN BONDRUP KLITGAARD, b. 8 November 1859, d. 27 October 1937 in San Francisco, CA; married 9 February 1887 15a THYRA EUREKA KLITGAARD, b. 3 September 1865 in Blokhus, DK, d. 1 January 1946 in San Francisco, CA. They were 1st cousins, Thyra was the daughter and 1st child of Captain 14d CHRISTEN JULIUS KLITGAARD I

Jens took over his father's business in Hals, but eventually there were retail merchants instead of provisions dealers in the neighboring towns of Ulsted, Hou, and Gandrup, and business decreased. The butter trade stopped when the cooperative dairies started. In 1901 he sold the business and went to Canada with his family, where he purchased a farm near Winnipeg. In 1902 he sold the farm and went to San Francisco, where he ran a restaurant until 1906, when the house burned in the earthquake. During 1907-08, he went to Alaska alone to dig for gold, but came back home poor, sick and broken. He worked at different things and later became involved in community work. They enjoyed their children and grandchildren a great deal; when their daughter, SOPHIE, died in 1918, he and his wonderful wife (Aunt THYRA E K) took her 4 children, and when the oldest son, THOMAS, got divorced from his wife, their son also made his home with them.

It was a very hospitable home, where many Danes gathered, and in 1934 (?) Aunt THYRA received a well deserved free trip to Rebild fest from the Danish Society. It was a great experience; at the party in KILDEN in Aalborg, she was named the town's honorary mayor for the day and received the town's golden key. (Pastor Kaj Munk and his wife Thyra were the evening's splendid speakers. Kaj Munk is famous for standing up at the pulpit and speaking out against the Nazis during the occupation of Denmark in World War II. His outspokenness cost him his life.)

A bit of a correction to pass on – in the Eskild Klitgaard book THE FAMILY KLITGAARD FROM BLOKHUS, he notes that the home of Thyra Eureka Klitgaard and her 1st cousin/husband Jens Christian Bondrup Klitgaard, was burned in the fires caused by the 1906 earthquake. But in reading their son's autobiography, it is clear that this is not correct – perhaps what Eskild meant was the building in which Bondrup's saloon/restaurant was housed burned down – this seems very likely. I know from first-hand accounts of descendants that the house on Douglass Street still stands today.

14d Christen Julius Klitgaard I 374 b DK 1835 d 1917 m Sophia (Larssen) 1845-1904 11 B:

Christen J Klitgaard I was born 1835 in Blokhaus, Denmark, and died 1917. He married Sophia Larssen, daughter of Jacob Larssen and Herrietti Eiler. She was born 1845 in Saeby, Denmark, and died 1904 in Hull,Yorkshire,England. Knighted in 1911

14d. CHRISTEN JULIUS KLITGAARD I b. 29 April 1835 in Blokhus, DK, d. 10 May 1917 in Helllerup, DK; Knight of Danneborg; was a shipping captain; married 1st 10 October 1864 in Odessa, Russia, SOPHIE AMALIE LARSEN, b. 15 March 1845 in Sæby, DK, d. 24 February 1904 in Hull, Yorkshire, England; married 2nd SIGRID NIELSEN from Hals, DK; no children in the second marriage.

He wrote his memoirs in English – FIFTY YEARS AS MASTER MARINER – completed and published by his son, CARL EDLER KLITGAARD in 1930.

The family lived in Hals until 1886, and during his time as a whaler, he brought a whale's jawbone home; it was erected as a gate to Pjaltenborg, and a load of grain can go through it. He was made a Knight of the Order of Danneborg in 1911.

His wife, Sophie Amalie, often sailed with him, and some of the children were born at sea – Klitgaard had taken a course in midwifery. Once she and four of the children traveled by train from Denmark to Marseille to meet the ship there. The ship was in the harbor, but Captain Klitgaard was in jail. There was (as now) some war nonsense in Tunis, and Klitgaard was suspected of being a Spanish or Portuguese spy. With the help of the consulate, however, Sophie got him out quickly. Sophie Amalie was very musical and very gifted in song and language, and while they lived in Newcastle she was an organist in a seamen's church. She is buried in Hals, and there is a very beautiful stone with her portrait in bronze relief. The captain's ashes were, in accordance with his own wishes, spread out in the sea north of Skagen, where the North Sea, the Skaggerak, and the Kattegat meet. They had 11 children

15a. THYRA EUREKA KLITGAARD was married to her cousin, the merchant 15d J. C. Bondrup Klitgaard, Hals –

15b. CHRISTIAN FREDERIK NØRDSTJERNE KLITGAARD, b. 9 February 1867, d. 1929; married 1st 14 March 1894 to SOPHIE JACOBSEN, b. 24 January 1871, d. 1937; divorced in 1922; married 2nd LILLY STAND from Norway, who died in 1937. Three children from 1st marriage, no children from 2nd marriage.

Nørdstjerne was a journeyman carpenter, went to sea and became a captain, and finally had a longshoreman business in San Francisco, CA. He spent his boyhood years in Hals, and the healthy boy became friends with boys who were sent to boarding school at the home of the head of the school, who was the pastor in Hals. They got into a lot of mischief – the pastor had an older servant girl who named Trine who got the church ready for Sunday services every Saturday evening. One winter evening when she finished her work in the sacristy, she went up to the pulpit with a carafe of water. Nørdstjerne had hidden himself on the stairs under a white sheet – the other boys had hidden themselves between the pews. When Trine came to the stairs, Nørdstjerne stuck out his bare foot and said "Kiss my foot; I am Pilate." Trine did not get frightened – when she passed him, she pushed him with the back (of her hand) and said "Kiss my a--; I am the pastor's Trine."

He sailed with his father for a while. Later he trained as a dairyman in Denmark. However, that wasn't anything for a singer. After his mother died [s*he died in 1904 – kkl*], he went to the US, and was denied entry due to bad eyes. His brother-in-law, May, got him to San Francisco via Canada, where he tried many things. Together with a Danish carpenter, Emanuel Jansen from Morsø, he was going to travel around in California – Manito was to sing and Jansen play the drums – but before that, Jansen fell in love with Thyra and Bondrup's daughter, SOPHIE [Manito's oldest sister, Thyra's, daughter], and that was the end of the trip. Another Danish carpenter who also frequently visited that home, loaned him 15 dollars, and for that he sailed to London. He worked as a singer in London – sang at Covent Garden, among other places. Later he started his own theater company and made a lot of money, but then his eyesight began to fail. He purchased the motorboat Talofa, with which he and his second wife sailed around Northern Europe, and sang from the boat. Betty, who was a splendid support for him, was the navigator. In 1957 they lived in a cozy little villa in Lyngby, where Betty is a language teacher, author, and translator. Manito is now, unfortunately, completely blind. 1 child from 1st marriage, no children from 2nd marriage.

15e. CHRISTIAN KLITGAARD, b.1 July 1879, d. 1 July 1940 in Reno, NV; unmarried. Journeyman dry goods dealer, but went to the US where he made glass mosaics for a while. He was Bohemian in nature, handsome, artistic, excellent piano player, but unstable. When he had money, he outfitted hunting expeditions in the mountains or purchased motor boats with which he went on long trips. For several years he was a herder for thousands of sheep in the Nevada desert, alone with some dogs. When the sheep were to be butchered in the fall, he went to San Francisco, CA, where he was with his cousins, Thyra and Bondrup Klitgaard; lived as a member of the family, played piano, used money and was "Grand Seigneur."

In 1929 he went to Denmark, during the voyage he became the lover of a German countess who went to Aalborg with him. They lived at the Phønix Hotel for a while. Then he took up residence in Blokhus, from where he traveled around the country and "gave to the count" (possible typo, may mean "gave to the countess"), and used the money he brought with him plus about twelve thousand crowns he inherited from his father. His sister KAREN (Mrs. Smith) had to give him money to get back to the US on.

The merchant Niels Bondrup Klitgaard in Ulsted can remember that in Holstebro he rented an extra train, locomotive and car – the train connection to Aalborg did not suit him. During a stay in Ulsted he consumed a bottle of whiskey every day, he rolled his own cigarettes, he threw the stumps and the torn off matches on the floor.

JAKOBSTAD 17.01.2004

Dear Cap from Jannica Kjerulf - TCK-page-226 Finland 25 Feb 04
Jannica.Kjerulf@roschier.com

Please find attached a picture of the family members of Sven Kjerulf and Erik Kjerulf (both are younger brothers of Bror Ivar Kjerulf, 13b on TCK-page 225), which picture was taken at the celebration of the 90th birthday of my grandfather Sven and his TWIN-brother Erik.

I am happy to introduce to you the following family members:
In the front (in the wheel-chair) is Sven's son (my father), Björn Kjerulf.

Standing in the front row from the left is Anne-Maria Ström with daughter Erica Kjerulf, my mother Yrsa Kjerulf, Sven's oldest daughter Benita Björklund together with Emma Björklund (daughter of Mats Björklund), Sven's youngest daughter Anne-Charlotte Kjerulf with Linus Björklund (son of Mats Björklund), Sven, Sven's wife (my grandmother) Manghild (sitting), Erik Kjerulf and Sara Samanen with her mother Elisabeth Samanen (daughter of Gun Hagelstam).

In the third row from the left you see Matilda Hosiasluoma (daughter of Benita and Björn Björklund) with her son Atte, Katja Björklund (wife of Mats Björklund), Staffan Storfors (son of Anne-Charlotte Kjerulf), my brother Peik Kjerulf, Hans Kronholm and his wife Marianne Kronholm (oldest daughter of Erik), Gunnel Boström (sedond daughter of Erik), Gun Hagelstam (daughter of Bror Ivar Kjerulf), Outi (girlfriend of Fredrik Boström), Katarina Boström (youngest daughter of Gunnel and Anders Boström) and Hanna Samanen (oldest daughter of Elisabeth Samanen).

In the top row from the left: Bernhard Paulin (living with Anne-Charlotte Kjerulf), Jannica Kjerulf (me), Mats Björklund and his father Björn Björklund, Kari Hosiasluoma (husband of Matilda Hosiasluoma), Magnus Storfors (oldest son of Anne-Charlotte Kjerulf), Anders Boström (husband of Gunnel, who stands below him) and their son Fredrik Boström, Esko Samanen (husband of Elisabeth) and his son Jonnie Samanen.

Only Annika Boström, the oldest grandchild of Erik is missing.

Note also the coincidence that 7b Johanne is the same as 10b Johanne (0011.0010) because her parents were `Kjærulf-Kissing-Kousins'.
Therefore, Johanne (and all of us descendants of `cousins married' to each other, of which I, CapK, am one) can rightfully claim to be a member of 2 different Kjærulf `generations' (provided our married ancestral cousins are from separate generations).
Note also that Johanne (and her 9 children and all of their issue down to this day and into the future) can claim descent from 2 different Kjærulf `branches'.
In this book, such descendants are generally listed with the male parent's branch.
You will find Johanne's father, 9a Bertel, and her first son, 11a Morten, at the very beginning of this main tree.

- From Kathy Fetters – 12 March 2004 -
Yes - I will send you information. I finally after a long year have quite a large amount of information - we have tracked our Kjaerulf lineage back to Nibe a small village outside of Copenhagen and have relatives in Alborg up towards the NW portion of Denmark.

My great grandfather was Peter Petersen who married Mette Kirstine Pedersen Kjaerulf. (My great grandmother). My mother was a Peterson. They were on the same ship en route to the USA in April 1870. They married two years later. They had eight children. Mette Kirstine Kjaerulf was quite a mystery because she intemittently went by the last name of her father which was Mortensen Kjaerulf, then she used Pedersen, and she used Kjaerulf. She traveled alone at 16 years old on a ship to the states -bringing her mother's Danish furniture with her. We could never figure this out until we learned her real mother had died when she was 13 years old. She was confirmed at 14 years of age as was the Danish custom at the time. Her father subsequently remarred (a Neilson woman) and apparently the two did not hit it off. She left two brothers behind - one named Peter Mortensen (Kjaerulf). She took her mothers belongings and headed across the ocean. QUITE Literally amazing. We have found her parents, and her parents parents. So I am quite happy to share what I have learned. I think it might be of interest to a great many people.

As you know, the patriarchal naming system caused us quite a concern in trying to verify who was who and which birth records, death records went to whom. Finally though, through the parishes and microfish at numerous Family History Centers we have now tracked back to the late 1700's.

I know you asked me for this information before, but we wanted to be absolutely certain that we were correct we had the right records. Now we have it and its truly amazing what we learned.

A few comments:

When 16a Karen Kirstine Kjærulff (page-241) married Knud S.M. Knudsen in 1901, the name Kjærulff might as well have disappeared from this branch. But this couple decided to name their children "Kjærulff-Knudsen". When my brother Peter and I were children, our last name was still „K-K", but our parents at some point decided to drop Knudsen. So it seems that Peter and I, Steffen, (and our families) and our mother Gudrun Kjærulff are now the only descendants of Karen Kirstine Kjærulff, who carry her maiden last name Kjærulff.

SCATTERED PERSONS (KS 440-458)

Most of the following individual Kjærulfs were sent the same request for family trees over the past two years that all others received. Many letters were returned and never received because some had moved but left no forwarding address.
Other letters may not have been able to be read because they were written in English!
No, that's not a valid reason because Hans Kierulff-Hansen 19a 230 sent out 650 letters in Danish throughout Scandinavia! At any rate, most of these persons are listed in 1984 telephone books, and they and their families most certainly `exist' as do you and I,
and are therefore an integral part of Twentieth Century Kjærulfs.
There will be unavoidable duplications of some names between this list and the family trees because there has been no way to verify specific detail.
I will be glad to hear from (or about) any of these `Scattered Persons' =
= in order to update my files = send to = capk@juno.com

Unrelated Family # 1:

These Kjerulfs originally were Poulsens, Stephansens and Knudsens in Denmark.
One Danish mother, Mette Marie Christensdatter Knudsen, had always admired the music of Norwegian composer Halfdan Kjerulf 13a 100 so she `gave' his Kjerulf name to the youngest of her five children, Christian xxx Bendiks Baines Kjerulf Knudsen.
Then, when Christian immigrated to the USA and was asked by the authorities what surname he wished to use for his family, his Norwegian wife, Martha Koppen, said: `Let's drop the Knudsen and honor my fellow countryman forever!'
Which is just exactly what they did.

I met Dan Kjerulf in 1945 in Fresno, CA, when I noticed his name in the telephone book and gave him a call. He came over and explained all this to me.
Then, I did not run across this family again until I was writing letters in 1982 to all Kjærulfs I could find (again, in telephone books!) in order to invite every one to attend our `First-Ever 1982 Kjærulf-Kalifornia-Konklave'. This time Dan's brother Stan Kjerulf wrote to me from San Francisco saying they were not `blood' relatives, but since we were all originally from Scandinavia, he and his wife and one of his sisters would like to join our family group in Solvang.
Which they did and we now consider their `branch' as one of our very own:

Unrelated Family # 2:

Starting in 1984, I wrote to 422 `Kjærulf' names that were listed in all the Danish telephone books, asking each one to participate in this project. One of those `names' was Jens Kjærulf Madsen. His granddaughter-in-law, Hanna Hojen Fischer Pedersen, kindly replied that their family was not related to other Kjærulfs in any way. She said that Jens Kjærulf Madsen's father, Jens Kjær Madsen, had for some reason (unknown at this time) given his son the Kjærulf middle name. And since his son liked his Kjærulf given name, he in turn gave it to each of his own three children. Hanna's husband (the next generation) does not carry the name, but their son, Peder, does. I am pleased to include in this book the Madsen family tree which Hanna so graciously sent to me:
